Notes

- All electricity generated within the ISO New England (ISO-NE) control area and fed on to the New England grid, as well as electricity exchanged between ISO-NE and adjacent control areas, is tracked via the New England Power Pool (NEPOOL) Generation Information System (GIS). For each megawatt hour (MWh) of electricity generated within or exchanged between the ISO-NE control area, whether renewable or not, one serial-numbered, electronic GIS certificate is created. The GIS certificate represents all attributes of characteristics, such as fuel source, air emissions, location, etc. of that one MWh of electricity. The information in this Energy Source Disclosure is based on GIS Certificates obtained and retired by the Supplier.
- Renewable Energy Standard (RES): is defined in the R.I. Gen Laws 39-26. The GIS certificates are retired by June 15th of the following year. This is calculated by multiplying the retired certificates for each power source by the renewable energy standard percentage of the product.
- Voluntary: GIS certificates of REC attributes in addition to the RES. The Voluntary REC attributes will be entirely from sources qualified as RI New sources (See R.I. Gen Laws 39-26) that are located only in New England. The GIS certificates can be retired by September 15th of the following year. This is calculated by multiplying the retired certificates for each power source by the voluntary RI New percentage of the product.
- Other Known Resources: Any other GIS certificates for electricity obtained by Supplier from specific generating units.
- Residual Mix: NextEra Energy Services Rhode Island may purchase electricity supply from system power contracts, not from specific generating units. System power is assigned attributes based on the mix of GIS certificates of sources found on the New England electricity grid that have not been obtained and retired by other entities, referred to as the "Residual Mix". The Residual Mix will largely be non-renewable, because most GIS certificates for renewable energy are obtained to meet the RI RES (and their equivalent in other New England states) or voluntary requirements. The total Residual Mix is reduced by the REC attributes retired based on the product chosen.
- Emissions for the product are calculated based on the emissions for the GIS Certificates the Supplier has obtained and retired. Average emissions for all power sources are calculated based on the System Mix from NEPOOL GIS, which include all GIS Certificates in the entire system. 100% is the average (baseline) emissions of the System Mix.
- See your contract terms and conditions for further information on this label. You may contact NextEra Energy Services toll free at 1-877-200-8619, the Rhode Island Office of Energy Resources at 1-401-574-9100 or the Rhode Island Department of Public Utilities at 1-401-941-4500.
- The effective price above applies to usage between May 2025 meter read dates and November 2025 meter read dates meter read dates for Residential and Commercial customers, and for May 2025 and August 2025 meter read dates for Industrial customers.
- NextEra Energy Services Rhode Island retires renewable energy certificates ("RECs") in addition to the RES Requirement as follows:
  - Standard Product: RECs representing generation from RI New resources in an amount equal to 5% of usage.
  - Opt-In Basic: None
  - Opt-In 50 Green: RECs representing generation from RI New resources in an amount equal to 50% of usage.
  - Opt-In 100 Green: RECs representing generation from RI New resources in an amount equal to 100% of usage.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY PRODUCT DETAIL

- Program prices apply to service beginning and ending on the days of the month that your meter is read.
- Program prices include a fee of $0.001 per kilowatt-hour (kWh) for the town’s aggregation consultant. Any applicable taxes will be added by Rhode Island Energy to your bill.
- At the end of the pricing term, you will be automatically renewed in your current product which may have a new price and a different percentage of voluntary renewable energy as negotiated by the Town. Pricing is expected to change every six to twelve months for Commercial customers and every three months for Industrial customers. The Town will announce price changes at least 30 days before any such price change takes effect. Product details will always be available at the Town’s website for the Program: Electricity.SouthkingstownRI.com.
- You may leave the Program at any time by contacting South Kingstown's supplier at (888) 387-1085 or by visiting the program website at Electricity.SouthkingstownRI.com.
- Rhode Island requires all electricity supply products to include a minimum amount of renewable energy, known as the Renewable Energy Standard (RES). Some South Kingstown program products contain voluntary renewable energy that exceeds the RES, as shown below:

Spring 2025 Price Change Press Release Issued Mar. 25, 2025

[ARCHIVED] South Kingstown Community Electricity program update

South Kingstown, RI - (March 25, 2025): The South Kingstown Community Electricity program is announcing new Summer electricity supply prices to go into effect beginning with the May 2025 meter read. Prices will be substantially decreasing, from 16.287 this past winter down to 10.014 cents/kWh for the Town's default electricity option. The new prices will be fixed for six months through customers' November 2025 meter read. Current participants do not need to take any action to remain in the program and receive the new pricing for the product in which they are currently enrolled.

This May, South Kingstown Community Electricity will have served the community for two years. The Town is pleased to have delivered on the program's goals of offering residents and businesses cleaner electricity, at affordable prices.

Most participants in South Kingstown's program use "South Kingstown Standard" which provides more renewable energy than RI Energy's Last Resort Service and will still provide cost savings this Summer. The additional renewable energy is sourced entirely from local Rhode Island projects, including the Narragansett Bay Commission wind turbines at Fields Point in Providence, solar in West Greenwich and additional wind turbines in Coventry.

The table below shows the prices for Residential customers compared to RI Energy. Prices for Commercial and Industrial customers can be found on the Program website: electricity.southkingstownri.com.

New Summer program prices go into effect on the May 2025 meter read.

The Last Resort Service Rate above reflects the total rate as filed by Rhode Island Energy in dockets PUC 25-03-EL and the rate has not yet been approved by the PUC as of March 17, 2025. The South Kingstown Community Electricity Program cannot guarantee savings compared to Rhode Island Energy Last Resort Service for the duration of the Program pricing because future Last Resort Service prices are unknown.

South Kingstown is part of a group of seven municipalities who shared in launching the first municipal aggregation programs on Rhode Island. Barrington, Central Falls, Narragansett, Newport, Portsmouth, Providence, and South Kingstown are all working with Good Energy as their consultant and share a common electricity supplier and pricing.

The voluntary renewable energy content in the program's standard and optional products comes from projects that qualify as RI New and make a sizable impact on the Town's carbon footprint. The program annually purchases over 4000 MWh of renewable energy on behalf of program participants. This equates to a reduction of over 3,300,000 pounds of carbon dioxide emissions.

The vast majority of the Town's residential and commercial electricity participate in the program, and collectively participants saved more than $572,000 from May 2023 through August 2024, while supporting new, renewable energy facilities here in Rhode Island.

This is a Town-operated program open to all South Kingstown and businesses. To join, complete the enrollment form on the program website: electricity.southkingstownri.com or call the program's supplier, NextEra Energy Services Rhode Island, at (888) 387-1085. Participants may leave the program at any time without fees or penalties.
