Dear Clerk DeLaRosa:

Clearview Energy respectfully petitions the Rhode Island Public Utilities Commission to recalculate its CY 2025 Renewable Energy Standard compliance obligation using the revised load data subsequently provided through the Rhode Island RES Portal. The revised load data was uploaded by the Rhode Island RES Program Administrator [office.com], and Clearview updated and resubmitted its CY 2025 filing based on that information.

The revised filing reflects total load of approximately 37,151.90 MWh, compared to approximately 37,213.80 MWh used in the original filing. Clearview respectfully requests that its CY 2025 RES compliance obligation be recalculated using the revised load data reflected in the updated filing.

Please let us know if any additional information is required.

Respectfully submitted,
Yesenia

Subject: Re: RI RES Annual Compliance Filing CY 2025: Final Load Volumes & Filing Deadline October 30, 2026

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Dear Suppliers,

This is a final reminder that you have until Oct 30 to review and update your CY 2025 filing according to the directions below.

Please note, that adjusting your filing does not on its own adjust your obligations. To seek obligations in accordance with the RBA adjusted load you must file a petition with the RI PUC or your obligations will remain based on the load provided at the original July 15 filing deadline. To file a petition, email the Commission Clerk at Stephanie.DeLaRosa@puc.ri.gov and copy PUC Counsel at Cynthia.WilsonFrias@puc.ri.gov. More details on filing a petition can be found at <https://rules.sos.ri.gov/regulations/part/810-00-00-1>.

Even if you do not plan on adjusting your filing please send us an email back confirming that is your decision. If you have already been in contact with me about your filing, no additional action is needed.

Kind regards,
Kurt

Dear Suppliers,

Your Rhode Island RES Portal CY2025 filing has been updated with an upload that shows load including RBAs filed by Rhode Island Energy through December 2025. The upload may show load volumes different from the load volumes originally provided on June 11th which were used to calculate obligation requirements for the 2025 filings due on July 15, 2026.

To view the updated load volumes, log in to the portal and in the "Documents Uploads and Certification" section click on the most recent upload to view the updated month and total load volumes. To view the original load volumes provided by Rhode Island Energy on June 11th click the "View load data by month" button in the "Total Annual Sales and Renewable Energy Resource Certificates" section. The load and calculations submitted in your 2025 filing remain unchanged at this time.

If you would like to keep the total load from the original filing, you do not need to do anything. Your total load volumes and calculated obligations will be considered final.

If you prefer to use the updated load, you must revise your 2025 filing by October 30, 2026. Please send an email to admin@rhodeislandres.com and request we reopen your 2025 filing so you can revise the total load and recalculate your obligations. If your updated filing lowers your obligation, you will be able to bank excess certificates following normal banking rules or if you paid an ACP, you can request a refund for the difference.

All requests to recalculate 2025 filings must be made by 4:00 PM, October 30, 2026. If you previously requested an extension to pay ACPs, that extension ends 4:00 PM, October 30, 2026.

Please let us know if you have any questions or need assistance.

Kind regards,

Rhode Island RES Program Administrator
