Division 17-3-ELEC

Request:

How is the "2003 VERO" annual amortization amount, described on page 114 of Mr. Laflamme's testimony, allocated to the customer classes within the electric distribution Allocated Class Cost of Service study?

Response:

This amount is included in Employee Pensions & Benefits, account 926, and is allocated among the rate classes based on the Labor cost included in the operating expense accounts.

Division 17-5-ELEC

Request:

Please provide a rationale for allocating Transmission Service Cost Adjustment Provision on coincident peak demands ("ICP") rather than a broader measure of annual demands such as 12CP demands.

Response:

The Company is not proposing to allocate transmission expenses recovered through the Transmission Service Cost Adjustment Provision based upon a single coincident peak allocator, but on each rate class's contribution to monthly system peaks. Please note that Page 27, Line 1 of the Direct Testimony of Company Witness Jeanne A. Lloyd should be corrected to include the word "monthly" before the word "system" and should read "reconciliation period based upon each rate class's contribution to monthly system peak during the..."

As described on Page 26 of Ms. Lloyd's testimony, currently, the Company utilizes an allocation factor based upon each rate class's contribution to the monthly system peaks of New England Power Company ("NEP") during a prior period to allocate the annual forecast of transmission expense each year. Then, class-specific transmission charges are developed that reflect this allocation of forecasted expense. The actual transmission expense incurred during the 12-month reconciliation period is compared to revenue billed during the same period, and the over- or under-collection of expense is refunded to, or collected from, all customers through a uniform per kWh factor. The uniform factor, combined with the class-specific charges designed to collect the transmission forecast, make up each class's total transmission charge for the upcoming year.

In this filing, the Company is proposing to change this methodology. Specifically, the Company is proposing that the annual forecast of transmission expense will be allocated to the rate classes through an allocation factor that is based upon a weighted average of each class's contribution to monthly system peaks for the years 2008 and 2011. Please see the Company's response to Division 17-1-ELEC for the rationale behind the Company's proposal to use coincident peak allocators developed from weighted average load factors for the years ended 2008 and 2011. This same factor will be utilized to allocate each year's forecasted transmission expense until the Commission approves new allocation factors in the Company's next general rate case.

To reconcile actual transmission expense incurred during the reconciliation period, the Company proposes to allocate the actual expense to the rate classes based upon each class's contribution to NEP's monthly system peaks during the prior year. This methodology is consistent with the way that transmission expense is billed to the Company by NEP and will more closely match the recovery of costs with the way that such costs are incurred. The allocated expense will be compared to the revenue billed to each class during the reconciliation period and class-specific reconciliation adjustment factors will be calculated to refund or collect the over- or under-recovery of costs.
