MOTION OF THE NARRAGANSETT ELECTRIC COMPANY,
D/B/A NATIONAL GRID
FOR PROTECTIVE TREATMENT OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Now comes The Narragansett Electric Company, d/b/a National Grid (“Company”) and hereby requests that the Rhode Island Public Utilities Commission (“Commission”) grant protection from public disclosure of certain confidential, competitively sensitive, and proprietary information submitted in this proceeding, as permitted by Commission Rule 1.2(g) and R.I.G.L. § 38-2-2(5)(i)(B).

I. BACKGROUND

On August 23, 2012, the Company filed with the Commission its response to Division 24-1-GAS issued by the Rhode Island Division of Public Utilities and Carriers (“Division”) in the above-referenced proceeding. In Division 24-1-GAS, the Division asked the Company to explain why it charged-off certain non-residential customers between 2007 - 2011. As part of data request Division 24-1-GAS, the Division referenced the Company’s response to Division 6-16-GAS (Supplemental), which contains account-level data consisting of customer names and account numbers. The Company included customer names in its response to Division 24-1-GAS. Customer-specific information is proprietary to the customer, and only that customer has the right to indicate whether his or her information should be available to anyone else (e.g., a competitive supplier or marketer) or to the public in general. Therefore, the Company seeks protection for the above-referenced information contained in data request Division 24-1-GAS and the Company's response to Division 24-1-GAS.

II. LEGAL STANDARD

Rule 1.2(g) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure provides that access to public records shall be granted in accordance with the Access to Public Records Act ("APRA"), R.I.G.L. §38-2-1, et seq. Under APRA, all documents and materials submitted in connection with the transaction of official business by an agency is deemed to be a "public record," unless the information contained in such documents and materials falls within one of the exceptions specifically identified in R.I.G.L. §38-2-2(5)(i). Therefore, to the extent that information provided to the Commission falls within one of the designated exceptions to the public records law, the Commission has the authority under the terms of APRA to deem such information to be confidential and to protect that information from public disclosure.

In that regard, R.I.G.L. §38-2-2(5)(i)(B) provides that the following records shall not be deemed public:

Trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person, firm, or corporation which is of a privileged or confidential nature

The Rhode Island Supreme Court has held that the determination as to whether this exemption applies requires the application of a two-pronged test set forth in Providence

Journal Company v. Convention Center Authority, 774 A.2d 40 (R.I.2001). The first prong of the test assesses whether the information was provided voluntarily to the governmental agency. Providence Journal, 774 A.2d at 47. If the answer to the first question is affirmative, then the question becomes whether the information is “of a kind that would customarily not be released to the public by the person from whom it was obtained.” Id.

In addition, the Court has held that the agencies making determinations as to the disclosure of information under APRA may apply the balancing test established by the Court in Providence Journal v. Kane, 577 A.2d 661 (R.I.1990). Under this balancing test, the Commission may protect information from public disclosure if the benefit of such protection outweighs the public interest in disclosure of information pending before regulatory agencies.

III. BASIS FOR CONFIDENTIALITY

The data request and the Company’s response to Division 24-1-GAS contain confidential customer-specific information consisting of customer names and account numbers, which is treated as confidential within the Company and is not disseminated outside the Company. This is particularly true in this case, where the customer names and account numbers are cross-referenced to an earlier data response that provides additional account information. The Commission has recognized each customer’s right to control dissemination of his or her customer-specific information. Such customer-specific information is proprietary to the customer and only the customer has the right to indicate whether such information should be available in the public domain.

Consistent with this precedent, the Company seeks protection for certain customer-specific information that is confidential, commercially sensitive, and proprietary from public disclosure. This material, therefore, must remain confidential to preserve the Company's customers' privacy interests. Accordingly, in this case the need to ensure that the confidentiality of this commercially sensitive information outweighs any public interest in disclosure of the information. The Company has provided all other portions of the data request and its response to Division 24-1-GAS as a public document.

IV. CONCLUSION

In light of the foregoing, the Company respectfully requests that the Commission grant its Motion for Protective Treatment as stated herein.

Respectfully submitted,

THE NARRAGANSETT ELECTRIC
