RE: Docket 4323 - Application for Approval of a Change in Electric and Gas Base Distribution Rates Pursuant to R.I.G.L. Sections 39-3-10 and 39-3-11 Responses to Commission Data Requests - Set 3 - ELEC/GAS

Dear Ms. Massaro:

Enclosed is an original and ten (10) copies of National Grid's<sup>1</sup> responses to the Commission's Third Set of Data Requests in the above-captioned proceeding.

Please be advised that the Company is seeking protective treatment of the response to Commission 3-34-ELEC as permitted by Commission Rule 1.2(g) and by R.I.G.L. § 38-2-2(5)(i)(B).

The Company is submitting herewith a Motion for Protective Treatment along with a copy of the confidential version of Commission 3-34-ELEC to the Commission pending a determination on the Company's Motion. The Company is also providing the Commission with the public version of this response. In addition, the Company is providing a copy of the confidential version of this response noted herein to the Division and its consultant.

The responses to the Third Set included with this filing are listed in the enclosed discovery log.

Thank you for your attention to this transmittal. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at (401) 784-7667.

Very truly yours,

Docket No. 4323

MOTION OF THE NARRAGANSETT ELECTRIC COMPANY, D/B/A NATIONAL GRID
FOR PROTECTIVE TREATMENT OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Now comes The Narragansett Electric Company, d/b/a National Grid (“Company”) and hereby requests that the Rhode Island Public Utilities Commission (“Commission”) grant protection from public disclosure of certain confidential, competitively sensitive, and proprietary information submitted in this proceeding, as permitted by Commission Rule 1.2(g) and R.I.G.L. § 38-2-2(5)(i)(B).

I. BACKGROUND

On August 20, 2012, the Company filed with the Commission its response to Commission 3-34-ELEC in the above-referenced proceeding. In Commission 3-34-ELEC, the Commission referred to Page 2 of the Company’s response to Division 18-6-ELEC and asked the Company to identify which municipality was issued a refund check and explain the specific reason for the refund. In the Company’s response to Commission 3-34-ELEC, the Company provided the name of the municipality that was issued a refund check. Customer-specific information is proprietary to the customer, and only that customer has the right to indicate whether his or her information should be available to anyone else (e.g., a competitive supplier or marketer) or to the public in general. Therefore, the Company seeks protection for the above-referenced information contained in the Company's response to Commission 3-34-ELEC.

II. LEGAL STANDARD

Rule 1.2(g) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure provides that access to public records shall be granted in accordance with the Access to Public Records Act ("APRA"), R.I.G.L. §38-2-1, et seq. Under APRA, all documents and materials submitted in connection with the transaction of official business by an agency is deemed to be a "public record," unless the information contained in such documents and materials falls within one of the exceptions specifically identified in R.I.G.L. §38-2-2(5)(i). Therefore, to the extent that information provided to the Commission falls within one of the designated exceptions to the public records law, the Commission has the authority under the terms of APRA to deem such information to be confidential and to protect that information from public disclosure.

In that regard, R.I.G.L. §38-2-2(5)(i)(B) provides that the following records shall not be deemed public:

Trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person, firm, or corporation which is of a privileged or confidential nature

The Rhode Island Supreme Court has held that the determination as to whether this exemption applies requires the application of a two-pronged test set forth in Providence Journal Company v. Convention Center Authority, 774 A.2d 40 (R.I.2001). The first prong of the test assesses whether the information was provided voluntarily to the governmental agency. Providence Journal, 774 A.2d at 47. If the answer to the first question is affirmative, then the question becomes whether the information is “of a kind that would customarily not be released to the public by the person from whom it was obtained.” Id.

In addition, the Court has held that the agencies making determinations as to the disclosure of information under APRA may apply the balancing test established by the Court in Providence Journal v. Kane, 577 A.2d 661 (R.I.1990). Under this balancing test, the Commission may protect information from public disclosure if the benefit of such protection outweighs the public interest in disclosure of information pending before regulatory agencies.

III. BASIS FOR CONFIDENTIALITY

The Company’s response to Commission 3-34-ELEC contains confidential customer-specific information consisting of the customer name, which is treated as confidential within the Company and is not disseminated outside the Company. This is particularly true in this case, where the customer name is cross-referenced to an earlier data response that provides additional account information. The Commission has recognized each customer’s right to control dissemination of his or her customer-specific information. Such customer-specific information is proprietary to the customer and only the customer has the right to indicate whether such information should be available in the public domain.

Consistent with this precedent, the Company seeks protection for certain customer-specific information that is confidential, commercially sensitive, and proprietary from public disclosure. This material, therefore, must remain confidential to preserve the Company's customer's privacy interests. Accordingly, in this case the need to ensure that the confidentiality of this commercially sensitive information outweighs any public interest in disclosure of the information. The Company has provided all other portions of its response to Commission 3-34-ELEC as a public document.

IV. CONCLUSION

In light of the foregoing, the Company respectfully requests that the Commission grant its Motion for Protective Treatment as stated herein.

Respectfully submitted,

THE NARRAGANSETT ELECTRIC COMPANY

By its attorney,

Commission 3-28-ELEC/GAS

Request:

Robert Hevert. Does Value Line's classification of "Electric Utilities" consist of 52 domestic U.S. utilities as stated on p. 21, lines 9-10, or does this classification consist of 52 domestic and combination utilities, as stated on p. 24, lines 5-6?

Response:

Value Line classifies the utilities used in the determination of both the electric proxy group and the combination proxy group according to three categories: "Electric Utility (Central)," "Electric Utility (East)," and "Electric Utility (West)". In addition, Value Line has a category titled "Natural Gas Utility" from which the gas proxy group is derived.

Although Value Line classifies electric utilities by region in its categorization, the spectrum of the underlying operations of those utilities varies widely, ranging between pure electric utility operations to a combination of regulated gas and electric utility operations.

Commission 3-29-ELEC/GAS

Request:

Robert Hevert, p. 21, line 20. What is the basis for choosing 60% of total net operating income derived from regulated utility operations as a screening criteria for the electric proxy group? Please include in your response the reason(s) for not using a higher percentage of total operating income for selecting this proxy group, i.e. 90%, similar to the gas proxy group.

Response:

The screens Mr. Hevert uses in screening for his proxy groups are partially a function of the universe of companies from which those proxy groups are selected. Because the universe of companies from which Mr. Hevert selected his electric proxy group consisted of 52 utilities, Mr. Hevert employed two screening criteria to determine the regulated proportion of electric utility operations for his proxy companies. As noted at Pages 62 - 63 of Mr. Hevert's Direct Testimony:

- To ensure that the proxy group consists of companies that are primarily regulated utilities, I excluded companies with less than 60.00 percent of total net operating income derived from regulated utility operations;
- I excluded companies whose average regulated electric operating income represented less than 90.00 percent of total regulated operating income...

However, in the development of the gas proxy group, Mr. Hevert selected from a universe of only 12 companies. In developing his screening criteria for that proxy group, he used only one screen to determine the regulated proportion of proxy company operations. Because the natural gas utilities covered by Value Line are predominantly regulated and predominantly natural gas utilities, the use of one screen resulted in the same proxy group as would have been derived had Mr. Hevert relied on two-screens as used in deriving the electric proxy group.

Commission 3-31-ELEC/GAS

Request:

Robert Hevert. Please define the term “covered” as it is used in the following places in your testimony: p. 21, line 12; p. 23, line 5; p. 24, line 8. Also, please explain the relevance and/or significance of the two utility industry equity analysts to your screening evaluation.

Response:

The term “covered” in that context refers to the practice of equity analysts who conduct research and analysis on a particular equity security and provide earnings estimates for those securities. Limiting the proxy group to companies with two or more utility industry analyst earnings projections reduces the influence that a single analyst's estimate of a company's earnings growth will have on the estimated Cost of Equity in the Discounted Cash Flow model.

Commission 3-32-ELEC/GAS

Request:

Referring to Robert Hevert, p. 3, line 15, please confirm that the phrase "two forms of the Capital Asset Pricing Model" refers to the CAPM using the DCF derived market risk premium and the CAPM using the Sharpe Ratio derived market risk premium.

Response:

The phrase "two forms of the Capital Asset Pricing Model" refers to the use of two different estimates of the market risk premium.

Commission 3-33-ELEC/GAS

Request:

Robert Hevert. If possible, please distinguish in layman's terms, without graphs or equations, in one or two sentences, the difference between the sharpe ratio derived risk premium and the DCF derived risk premium. Please focus your response simply on the general purpose each risk premium serves in the overall CAPM analysis, rather than how each of them is mathematically derived.

Response:

The purpose of both estimation techniques is to calculate the forward-looking expected market risk premium through the use of traded open market data. Both techniques calculate a required market return and subtract the current level of interest rates to estimate the market risk premium. The two methodologies rely on different aspects of financial theory to derive their respective estimates.

The Sharpe ratio approach assumes that the long-term historical relationship between market risk and market return will continue to hold into the future. Based on market prices for risk, it is possible to estimate the expected market return in the future.

Similarly, given that the S&P 500 Index is commonly used as a measure of the broad market, the DCF-derived market risk premium relies on current levels of dividends and earnings growth projections to forecast the required return on the market. Both factors are readily observable in the market and extensively relied upon by investors.

Redacted
Commission 3-34-ELEC

Request:

Evelyn Kaye. Referring to the Company's response to DIV 18-6-ELEC, p.2. Which municipality was issued a refund check, and what was the specific reason for the refund?

Response:

A total of $369,125.45 was refunded to the [REDACTED].

In early 2011, the customer requested a review of billing associated with traffic signals. The main reason for the review was a program the customer recently completed replacing incandescent lights with LEDs. This replacement significantly reduced overall wattage and the resulting kilowatt-hours with each location.

The Company bills many locations (such as traffic signals) as unmetered, which means it bills according to set usage values based on the number of lights and the wattage of the lights. When the change out occurred, the Company paid rebates to the customer for the wattage reduction but did not adjust the set usage values to reflect the reduced wattage of the new LEDs. The customer provided account numbers, number of signals per account, and the LED replacement information. The Company recalculated its bills and issued a refund for the difference.
